

Sunday Snippets

Pat thanked for her work as Governor

The service that Pat Horrell had given as a Governor of St Edward's CE Primary School for upwards of ten years was acknowledged at last week's Leavers' Assembly. Unfortunately Pat was not able to be present but Rev Chris called on her later and presented her with a lovely bouquet of flowers for which unexpected surprise Pat says she was very grateful. She also says she has thoroughly enjoyed her time at the school as a Governor and will miss the work and the children very much.

Magazine deliveries

Many thanks to those who responded to the request for someone to take over the Parish Magazine delivery round from Frances Rendle who is expecting to move out of the parish shortly. The good news is that Frances is intending to retain some links with St Edward's including continuing to worship with us. All her involvement to date is very much appreciated. Replacing Frances's magazine delivery duty will be Sue Lake who can multi-task by walking her dogs at the same time.

Stuart's Accident

A broken leg and fractured elbow, resulting from a motor cycle accident, will be limiting the activities of Stuart Parry for some many weeks. Wife Eleanor is likely to be even more busy than usual and both of them will no doubt value our prayers and good wishes.

Hall tidy-up

Next Saturday morning (1st August) from 9 o'clock, we are seeking help with tidying up the church hall and surrounds. The hall is maintained in a generally excellent condition and with this proposed working party it will be possible to do some of those little extra smartening up tasks that are over and above the routine chores. Please do come along for a couple of hours if you are able.

Sunday Snippets

Ford Park Cemetery exhibition

There have been some really first class personal and natural history exhibitions in recent months at Ford Park Cemetery. The next one is due run from 8th August until 27th September and is entitled "People of Plymouth 1915". It is understood that included may be some of the details of the two sons of Rev AF Baker (Vicar of Eggbuckland 1901-1921) whose exploits at the Front in France in the Great War have been published in our Parish Magazine. If you haven't been to Ford Park since the renovations, it is well worth a visit and light refreshments are served throughout the day.

A wife suspected her husband of having an affair with his pretty young personal assistant so one day she tried to catch him out by calling at the office unannounced. Sure enough, when she walked in she found him with the PA on his lap. Without hesitation, the husband dictated, "And in conclusion, gentlemen, irrespective of shortages, I cannot continue to operate efficiently in this office with just the one chair."

The Judge looked quizzically at the defendant and said, "So you admit breaking into this High Street department store on three occasions?" "Yes, your Honour," he replied. "And why did you break in?"

"Because my wife wanted a dress." "The Judge checked his records. "But it says here you broke in three nights in a row." "That's right, your Honour. She made me exchange it twice."

Space running out for Bell Ringers' trophies

Two more successes last Saturday and two more trophies won by our Bell Ringers. The time is fast approaching when additional space will need to be found to display their spoils as the ringing chamber is rapidly filling up! The latest achievements on 18th July were winning the John Scott Trophy at St Michael's Doddiscombsleigh for a first place in the Devon Church Bell Restoration Fund competition and another from the Dunsford Church Bell Ringers' Association. Rival teams must question their own chances of ever winning when seeing Eggbuckland turn up to compete, so consistently successful have the members been. Long may it continue.

